TARANGIRE

A photograph of Oliver's Camp at dusk. The scene is illuminated by warm, golden lights from a wooden bar and lounge area. The bar has a thatched roof and is surrounded by wooden stools. In the foreground, a swimming pool reflects the lights and the sky. The background shows a large, leafless tree and a clear sky with a hint of sunset. The overall atmosphere is serene and luxurious.

MEET THE CHIMPANZEE OF RUBONDO ISLAND

HOBOKERA
SECOND-RANKED FEMALE FROM
ALPHA FEMALE, MAMA MONYA

Name origin: Hobokera has been named after her lead ranger's officer, Hobokera.

Age: 18 years old

Fast facts: Hobokera is a high ranked female chimpanzee. He is known to be very polite. She is fully habituated and has given birth twice which means that other female chimpanzee babies can now associate together with her and her babies. The young learn a lot from Hobokera, especially when they reach a place with plenty of fruits or if there is a kill, she is always ready to share the foods and her knowledge.

MGWESA
THIRD-RANKED MALE FROM
ALPHA MALE, MSUKUMA

Name origin: Mgwesa was named after a tracker who would visit often to ensure the safety of the chimpanzee.

Age: 8 years old

Fast facts: At 8 years of age, he is classified as a grown male chimpanzee. Mgwesa has a great sense of humour and likes to imitate people, often playing the joker and has a lot of fun playing around for guests. Mgwesa is the third-ranked chimpanzee from Msukuma and Sarige and he spends time away from females, rather than travelling with the older males to learn from them.

DINGI
YOUNG MALE CHIMPANZEE

Name origin: Dingi was named after the ranger Bahati (nicknamed Dingi) because of his curiosity and Dingi loves following Bahati whenever he saw him.

Age: 6 years old

Fast facts: Dingi was born on Rubondo Island National Park and therefore is very comfortable being around people. He is fearless when guests are around and loves swinging through the trees watching people and then moving back to his group.
